

Heat Risk Is Rising In America's Heartland

Everyone is at some risk of extreme heat. Your risk may be greater than you think.

“Heat is the #1 weather-related cause of death in the United States.”

— The U.S. Department of Homeland Security

Use the Heartland Disaster Help website to find:

Your unique risk of a heatwave based on your address.

Free and low-cost ways to protect your home, family, and community from heatwaves.

Tips on what to do when a heatwave is approaching.

Heat Myths vs Facts.

Local organizations that can help you prepare for and recover from a heatwave.

Information on heat-related illnesses, their symptoms and treatment.

Did you know?

Heat is the #1 weather-related cause of death in the United States.*
Protect your home and family. Visit HeartlandDisasterHelp.org

*Source: FEMA

HEARTLAND
Disaster Help